Hospice of the Piedmont's vision is to achieve a day when no one has to die alone or in pain. Our mission is to positively transform the way people view and experience serious illness, death, and dying. We consider it a sacred duty and a genuine privilege to serve our patients and this community.

Hospice of the Piedmont is central Virginia's oldest and only nonprofit, community-based hospice. Since 1980, Hospice of the Piedmont has provided care to thousands of terminally ill patients throughout our extensive service area, which includes twelve counties across central and northern Virginia: Albemarle, Augusta, Buckingham, Culpeper, Fauquier, Fluvanna, Greene, Louisa, Madison, Nelson, Orange, and Rappahannock. Hospice of the Piedmont is headquartered in Charlottesville, with an additional office located in Culpeper.

The area boasts robust rivers, mountain views, and rolling hills; diverse cultural activities; and proximity to larger cities such as Washington, D.C. Our community is lauded for being one of the 15 best places to live, top ten places to retire, and among the healthiest communities.

A partnership of not-for-profit, hospice, palliative, and advanced illness care providers.
